4th ANNUAL SAFE SCHOOLS NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE FOR EDUCATORS

In the recent years, North Carolina has made national headlines for enacting HB2, a law that legalizes discrimination against LGBTQ+ people and hurts all NC workers. Unfortunately, our state and our state's schools, like so many places in the world, are not yet consistently safe and affirming places for LGBTQ+ people. Safe Schools NC is dedicated to changing that dynamic in as many NC schools as possible and we believe that educating other educators about LGBTQ+ issues and inclusive learning environments is one of the best ways to make schools welcoming for all students. The theme for our 4th Annual Conference is "Agency, Solidarity, Healing." We'll have sessions that address reclaiming power through story, self, language and learning (Agency), how participants can build meaningful connections across lines of difference (Solidarity), and the importance of individual and collective healing for the sake of wholeness, liberation, justice, and equity (Healing). Our yearly conference brings together teachers, guidance counselors, school board members, administration, students and others and provides them with strategies, resources, and support to combat the injustices that too many young people experience. North Carolina's educators have the power to stand against hate in our state, and the Safe Schools NC conference gives them the tools to do so.

Conference Feedback

"It was very empowering to be in a space with like-minded educators and gave me hope that instructional and structural change is possible!"

"I was able to take away so many easy to implement changes in my instruction that I can't wait to share with my staff!"

"All the presenters were highly knowledgeable and engaging. I felt the whole day was well worth my time."

2018 SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Our inaugural Educate with Pride Conference for Educators in 2015 was a great success, bringing together educators, students, parents and administrators from across the state. 2016 continued the trend of engagement, awareness, and action. Sponsorship of our conference is a great way to support your local community, young people and their teachers, and connect with other organizations doing meaningful work. Whether donating to our scholarship fund to make the conference accessible and affordable for any students or educators, or becoming an official Conference Sponsor, your support makes a difference in lives of LGBTQ+ identified youth.

Sincerely,

Safe Schools NC
